Cleveland to Host Federal Bar Association's National Convention in 2016

CLEVELAND, OHIO –Cleveland has been selected to host the Federal Bar Association's 2016 Annual Meeting and Convention.

The convention is expected to attract more than 400 lawyers and judges from FBA chapters throughout the United States. This prestigious three-day affair, typically held in late summer or early fall, will feature business meetings, social events and educational sessions from Thursday morning through Saturday evening. Details are not yet available but, over the course of three days, the convention will provide 16 credit hours of continuing education, luncheons, awards ceremonies, installation of the bar association's national president, receptions and a closing banquet.

"This is a wonderful opportunity to showcase Cleveland's renaissance to our colleagues," said Virginia Davidson, president of the FBA's Northern District of Ohio Chapter. "The last time Cleveland hosted the national convention was in 2000, and we have a lot to show off that wasn't here then – the Federal Court House, the Horseshoe Casino, the Global Center for Health Innovation, and the Flats Project, just to name a few."

The 2013 Annual Meeting and Convention will take place Sept. 26-28 at the Caribe Hilton Hotel in San Juan, Puerto Rico.
